Our new advertisements are worth reading to-day.

The weather cleared up on Thursday last.

Dr. Hydrick has a fine assortment of cigars.

Major Fou has large water melons for sale.

The Lutheran church is still without a regularly employed pastor.

Mr. Brunson's house, on "Cedar street," is, we understand, completed.

Squirrels and possums catch the devil now on all sides from our perambulating hunters.

A modern essayist defines gossip "the putting of two and two together and making five of them." Correct.

A fire well is being dug on Main street, between Doyle's and Kortjohn's.

See notice to contractors from the County Commissioners in to-day's issue.

The old fire well in the Presbyterian church yard has been filled up. It was never of any service.

Mr. C. R. Jones' attractive advertisement will be found in another column. Turn to it, and then call on Mr. J.

The State Fair did not prove such a grand success after all. We believe Orangeburg county can beat the State in such matters.

The trees are nearly disrobed of their leaves, and soon their naked limbs will have no protection against wind or rain.

If pinch-back dresses continue in fashion there will not be many flowers gathered next Spring by the fair sex. Their beaux will have to do the stooping for them.

Why is it that no election has been called to fill the vacancy caused in the lower House by the death of Crews? Is it because no one wants to occupy his place?

The Methodist Conference, which is to convene here next month, promises to be an interesting occasion, as a number of able divines will be present.

The side walk between Vose's and Mosley's has been widened. This was a necessity. Although hoop skirts are out of fashion, that side walk was too narrow.

The County Commissioners closed their annual meeting during the present week. They performed what work was before them with an eye to the interests of the people.

Dr. Miles Hunter, the great cancer doctor, has been stopping at the McMichael House for several days past, and has performed a great many wonderful operations. Read his advertisement in another column.

The Columbia Register, and the Union Herald continue to throw dirt at each other. Why don't Canten and Emlyn own their relationship, kiss and make friends?

The residence of Mr. Geo. S. Shirer is going up rapidly. If Mr. S. displays as much taste in its finish, as is characteristic of him, his home will certainly be an ornament to his part of the town.

The Court House moves along grandly. The contractor should feel proud, not only of the progress Capt Bell is making, but also of the workmanlike manner in which the building is going up.

The plow of J. E. Adger & Co., called the Farmer's Friend, and which took the premium above all others at the recent Fair, is advertised in to-day's paper. We recommend that our farmers give it a trial.

The anniversary of the Hook and Ladder Company will come off at Elliott Hall on the 30th of this month. The company will parade at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in full uniform. A Collation will be given at 8 o'clock.

The river bridge, near Orangeburg, is soon to be built anew. Public necessity suggested this step long ago, and we are glad that the County Commissioners have resolved to give the people a safe passage to Orangeburg.

Mr. James Carrie, Dentist, in Baltimore, writes: "I have used Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup personally and in my family for two or three years, and am prepared to say that there is nothing to compare to it as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc."

We learn that Branchville is improving both in size and commercial importance. It is certainly a pleasure to us to note such signs of prosperity in a town so intimately connected with the progress of our own lovely Orangeburg.

Fischer is making an oyster shell walk from his side of the street over to Bull's. It will be comfortable to have at least one place where you can cross Main Street on rainy days without bogging over your shoe tops in mud. Fischer merits a diploma.

J. Wallace Cannon has an assortment of cigars which we recommend to the public. If any of our readers desire a real good smoke, we advise them to give him a call. His stock of dry goods and groceries are also excellent, and can be had low down for cash.

August Fischer announces in to-day's issue his intention to "favor every man" in the county. Readers, turn to his advertisement and be consoled. As long as there are such men in town as the prince of the enterprise grocery, both inflationists and contractionists may go to the devil, for Fischer will see to it that nobody starves.

Our town is as wisely and economically governed as any in the State. Mayor Boliver and his excellent board of Aldermen, are doing all they can to give us good streets and an honest and upright administration of our municipal affairs. Marshal Z. M. Wolfe also deserves special credit for the admirable manner in which he preserves the peace of the town.

Mr. Harpin Riggs met with a sad accident on Friday night of last week while in the act of pressing down the notes under his new Needle Gin. It seems that while thus engaged, the saws caught the coat sleeve of his right arm, and ground his hand in an instant into the machinery of the gin, badly crushing it up to the wrist, and rendering amputation necessary. The circumstance is deeply regretted, as Mr. Riggs is one of our most useful and public spirited citizens. We learn that he is doing well.

The progress that Orangeburg has made since the fire is wonderful. Her trade has increased in proportion to her prosperity, and, as a matter of course, her shipments of cotton are much larger than at any former time. Where Meredith shipped 6,000 bales of cotton a season, we understand the present Agent ships 12,000 bales, and from four to five car loads of resin a week, besides a large amount of produce and merchandize. And yet the salary our agent gets is the same boggary sum which the Railroad company paid Meredith for doing half the work. But that is the fault with this rich corporation. The men who do the most work for them are generally the poorest paid.

The Legislature will meet on the fourth Tuesday in this month. Let us hope that it will not be annoyed this session with any more of Leslie's Bonanzas. Kick him out first!

The soft money editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer calls the hard money editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal an "inflated ass." This is evidently a misnomer. In view of the contraction opinions of the Louisville editor, a "contracted ass" would probably be the proper epithet.

Wouldn't it be a good move, on the part of our City Fathers, to consider the necessity which exists here for a town clock? The idea was agitated, if we remember correctly, a year or more back, but collapsed, and has not been heard of since. It strikes us that, thriving as Orangeburg is, she should have something to regulate the time. Will the Council consider the matter?

A large meeting of citizens was held at Bushy Pond Church, in Willow Township, on the 9th instant, for the purpose of settling upon some proper man to succeed Mr. Weeks. We learn that resolutions were passed endorsing W. L. W. Riley for the position, which, together with a numerous signed petition, has been forwarded to His Excellency, Mr. Riley, we presume, will be appointed at once.

Gov. Chamberlain paid a visit to Charleston last week for the first time since his election. He was serenaded at the Charleston hotel the first afternoon of his stay in the city, by the Independent Republicans, and acknowledged the compliment in an eloquent speech. The Chamber of Commerce also tendered him a reception, which passed off very pleasantly. It is gratifying to see our Executive thus honored by all parties.

All five dollar notes of the First National Bank of Chicago, Ill., of the Traders' National Bank of Chicago, Ill., of the First National Bank of Paxton, Ill., and of the First National Bank of Canton, Ill., are worthless, as the entire amount of the genuine five-dollar notes of these banks has been called in, with a view to retire them from circulation. Business men! make a note of this and paste it up in your counting rooms.

Mr. W. P. Spencer, of this office, tired of pulling in single harness, embarked upon the sea of matrimony on the 3d day of the present month, by uniting himself for life to Miss A. Lewis, of Burke county, Ga. The marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. B. Campbell, at the residence of Mr. W. T. Lightfoot, after which the happy couple received the hearty congratulations of many friends. We wish for them a smooth and uninterrupted stream of conjugal happiness.

Our farmers have been blest with a most excellent Fall for the gathering of their crops, whose abundance the News and Times hopes is amply sufficient to prepare them for a merry Christmas, and a contented life during the coming Centennial year. We have many things to be thankful for, and we trust with the dawn of 1876, that brighter prospects and higher hopes will make glad the homes of every one in our land. To some the close of the old year will bring retrospections of lives mispent, and hopes to rudely crossed; of confidences misplaced, and aims and ambitions blighted by the remorseless hand of Fate; but let each of these take fresh courage, with the advent of the new year, and press forward manfully until the longest for goal is reached. The News and Times will give its cheery voice every week to its readers, and if we can make them happy by furnishing them with a lively paper, our printers shall most assuredly merit their hearty well done.
